PERSONAL

J. C. Gibson, a former resident here and who moved to Hickory in July of last year, spent several days in the city this week. He is now traveling out of Charlotte in the insurance business.

W. M. Nicholson, in renewing from College Park, Ga., writes encouragingly to his home paper; his kind words are appreciated.

The local phone manager on Monday distributed new phone directories to the patrons. New books are issued quarterly and this one is corrected to October 1st.

In the election of officers of the King's Daughters at Henderson last week Rockingham was awarded two officers—Miss Esdale Shaw as vice-president, and Mrs. W. N. Everett as member of the executive committee.

Mrs. Anna Lea, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Ellis Thomas, is probably the first Rockingham girl to have a joy ride in the clouds. She, with five or six other girls, spent a quarter of an hour one day last week in the heavens in the Eagle at a height of half a mile. She has a government position in Washington.

Shoppers from the Mangum section in the city Saturday were Mrs. Mary A. Nicholson, Mrs. T. M. Ledbetter and Mrs. Hamp Nicholson.

Miss Mary Kennedy Little will be married at Wadesboro on Thursday evening, November 20th, at 7 o'clock, to Dr. James Matthews Davis, of Wilson.

Dr. Platt W. Covington is now located at Louisville, Kentucky. He has been at Austin, Texas, for the past four years as State Director of Public Health activities of the Rockefeller foundation, and is now transferred to Kentucky for the same work, with the Kentucky State Board of Health. His friends in Rockingham will be interested in his success.

SCRAPS of HUMOR

Multitudinous Brain Fag.
"You don't mean to tell me you ever doubt the wisdom of the majority?"
"Well," responded Senator Sorghum with deliberation, "what is a majority? In many instances it is only a large number of people who have got tired out trying to think for themselves and have decided to accept somebody else's opinion."

Economics.
Sawyer—"And so you do your own laundry?"
Wringer—"Certainly. I wash everything but my own collars, and they don't need it because they're celluloid. I simply wipe them off with my shirt sleeves and then wash the shirt."

When Interest Is Awakened.
Problem—If you see a man with a smile on his face, cut a paragraph from a newspaper and place it carefully in his billfold, what is your deduction?
Answer—You are right. The clipping mentions him.—Judge.

The Test.
"I see you have been retained in that murder case as an insanity expert. How are you going to determine the degree of irresponsibility of your client?"
"By the size of the fee I get out of him."

A Timely Warning.
Mrs. Pester—"Don't bother me. I'll be dressed as soon as I can."
Her Husband—"I was just going to say if you don't speed up a little those clothes will be out of style by the time you get 'em on."

One on Dad.
Father—"You don't mean to say the girls are going out tonight? They are always gadding about."
"Never mind, dear. They are to dine at home a week from Thursday on purpose to meet you."—Life.

A Nasty Rejoinder.
Tramp—"Please, kind gentleman, could you help a poor blind man?"
Gentleman—"But how am I to know you are blind?"
Tramp—"Because I called you a gentleman."—Stray Stories.

PROFITEERING.
Ten thousand for an aeroplane
Or more than that is spent.
Which is a lot considering they make them for ascent.

Hard Luck.
Life's hardest fate is this 'un:
When arguments expand
The more you try to listen
The less you understand.

Quite So.
She—"Somebody said there was a painter aboard the boat."
He—"Of course there is."
She—"Do let me see him work. Is he one of those camouflage artists?"

The Way.
"This writer in describing a fire says the flames ran along at a rapid rate. What sort of a path do you suppose they ran in?"
"I guess it was a cinder path."

Nothing to Fear.
Visitor—"Oh, I stepped on that man's foot!"
Studio Manager—"Never mind. That wasn't the star; it was only the president of the company."—Film Fun.

A Willy Husband.
"Mother, what is propaganda?"
"Propaganda, child, is the bunch of compliments your father pays me on my old hat, when he knows I am thinking of a new one."—Life.

Good Advice.
"How true it is that we are a long time dead!"
"Therefore it behooves a man not to be a dead one while he's here. Advertise."

Kept Several Feet Away.
Polly—"Charlie says he thinks the floor is too rough."
Dolly—"He surely does. I noticed he didn't venture upon it when he danced with me!"

Good Suggestion.
She—"What do you think of my getting papa to put in the money you need for your business?"
He—"I think it's a capital idea."
